

! o " ca " e #e sure that $esus is the o e true %essiah o& Go' (

There are many people throughout history who have claimed to be the %essiah o& Go' either as being a %essiah that is 'distinct from $esus or as being the %essiah $esus who has returned again ,

1. ! o " many true %essiahs can be expected (

Exodus 22:30-31

Galatians 3:16

Isaiah 9:25-27

Although there may be several who will claim to be the %essiah o& Go' there is only one who can truly be the %essiah o& Go', The Messiah and there being only one is partially related to the %essiah being 'eternally' as the rightful heir to the people of Israel, sitting on the throne of David, The apostle Paul specifically states that there is to be one and only one promise 'seed' of Abraham,

2. What are some of the requirements for being the one true %essiah (

2 Samuel 7:12-13

Deuteronomy 18:15

Isaiah 50:10-11

Isaiah 5:2

Isaiah 9:1-2

Isaiah 43:11

The one true %essiah will be the rightful heir to the throne of David, The one true %essiah will be a Prophet of God who is sent to, The one true %essiah will come out of Bethlehem and out of Galilee, The %essiah o& Go' will be the only savior that is to come,

3. What qualifies $esus as being that %essiah (

John 1:31-33

John 18:33-37

Matthew 13:54-57

Matthew 11:1-5

John 5:18: 20:2; -2<

Philippians 2:6-11

Matthew 26:1-;: 26:13-1;

1 Peter 4:10-12

$esus is 'eternally' as being the rightful heir to the throne of David and that is why from the beginning of time, $esus, $esus is 'eternally' as being a special or 'eternal' prophet from God, Furthermore, $esus was born in Bethlehem and lived in Galilee, according to the scriptures associate with the %essiah, $esus was recognized as being the Son of God and a man who that 'eternally' is as being eternal to God, $esus is the one and only savior of the people of God,

4. What is the ultimate validation of $esus as the %essiah (

Romans 1:1-4

The ultimate validation of $esus as the %essiah o& Go' is the fact that he came from the 'flesh',